The Honours Programme

Welcome to the Honours Programme

The Honours Programme of the World Scout Foundation recognises individuals and families who are significant benefactors of the World Scout Foundation. Through their lifetime contributions, they enable the growth and development of Scouting initiatives for millions of young people around the world, ensuring the delivery of tailored services and impactful projects spearheaded by the World Organization of the Scout Movement.

Honours Programme members are philanthropic trailblazers that foster the growth and quality of Scouting, inspiring the leaders of tomorrow to take meaningful action in their local communities. Each donor level recognises a significant personal achievement in charitable giving, which is honoured by our Honorary Chairman, HM King Carl XVI Gustaf of Sweden, at a special event among fellow friends of Scouting.

How your contribution makes a difference

Scouts around the world are tackling some of the most pressing challenges of our time. As a member of the Honours Programme, your contribution enables us to develop and strengthen the impact of Scouting worldwide, by providing the resources required to grow this global vital force for good. Every day, Scouts take part in a values-based, fun and challenging programme of educational activities that helps them develop a wide range of key skills and behaviours. In fact, according to impact studies undertaken in 2018 and 2019, Scouts outperform their non-Scout peers across nearly all categories of personal development including active citizenship, life skills, employability and leadership skills.

We welcome you to join us!

Together we can ensure that young people around the world are equipped with the critical skills, values, confidence and knowledge to develop as active citizens who lead positive change in their local communities worldwide – through Scouting!

With your gift to the Honours Programme, you enable Scouts like these to make a real difference!

Kim Robert de Leon Philippines

When the global corona pandemic hit, Kim Robert saw first-hand the severe negative impact on low-income families. Enter SALAD (Scouts Aid for Low-income and Distressed), a unique, gravity-defying, vertical urban gardening project to promote healthy and sustainable food sources and assist more Scouts and the community by providing food relief packs for families in need. "Through this initiative we have a sustainable way of helping fellow citizens."

Mykyta Rohutskyi

Ukraine

When war broke out in Ukraine, Mykyta supported his community by providing food and activities for children impacted by the war. At day camps, he offered games, outdoor activities, and support to improve the physical and mental health of young people in Kyiv, one of the most affected cities affected by the war. Mykyta was named as a "Messengers of Peace Hero" in 2022.

Nadine Shili

Tunisia

As a Youth Representative for World Scouting, Nadine Shili champions raising the voices of young people around the world. Thanks to the skills of teamwork and leadership that she gained in Scouting in her home country of Tunisia, Nadine now advocates for the right to quality education in Global Forums with such as the Transforming Education Summit.

Our promise to you

The World Scout Foundation Board, under the active leadership of its Honorary Chairman, HM King Carl XVI Gustaf of Sweden, is made up of prominent business people, Scout leaders and influential global decision-makers. The Board and its committees oversee all projects, investments and the use of the funds provided for the growth and development of World Scouting.

The Foundation will ensure regular, transparent reporting on the use of your contribution toward World Scouting including updates via Foundation News, Impact News and an Annual Report, which will provide you with relevant information about the impact of your gift as well as important developments regarding the governance and finances of the Foundation. Periodic field visits for Honours Programme members and regular attendance at our annual Baden-Powell Fellowship event will provide a platform to see the impact of your gift first-hand.

The Honours Programme Levels of Giving

Each level of giving represents a significant contribution toward our vision of raising and investing an additional USD 100 million in World Scouting to contribute to the education and development of over 100 million young, active citizens.

We value your contribution to World Scouting, and we are honoured to grow and develop this vital force for good together with you in the years to come!

"Scouting empowers young people, encouraging them to take responsibility and equipping them with lifelong skills and positive values. From an early age, Scouts learn to take calculated risks, manage projects and budgets, and hone their problem solving and decision-making skills through local acts of service to their communities. Skills like these allowed me to pursue my dreams of becoming a civil engineer."

"I support the Foundation because an investment in Scouting is an investment in leadership development for young people and in a world that is more sustainable and smarter, one led by men and women who are visionary enough to positively shape the future and have the fortitude to carve it themselves."

"The best way to change the world is by turning young people into leaders in business and society. This is exactly what Scouting does. Scouting is fun, but it's not only fun – it is the most important leadership training programme on earth. I want more young people to learn leadership skills. I want more young people to have the values I got (in Scouting) to care for nature, to help others and to care for themselves. I want them to engage in their local community, their school or their business and change it for the better. I invest in Scouting the same way I invest in business: to have the highest possible return."

Lars Kolind

WSF Board Member and Member of the Honours Programme
Denmark

*"Scouting changes lives for the better. And your support makes it possible. I ask you all to help us to continue growing the Fellowship: Share your passion for Scouting with your friends and networks. Tell them about the great initiatives.
Let them know that young Scouts are working hard to drive positive change.
Always and everywhere."*
